

Report from our Mocktail Party!!

By Oliver

On the 9th January 2008 5B (class name) and 5O had a class party in Brundall School.

At 12.30 pm it was lunch time and everyone in 5B and 5O were very excited about the party in the afternoon. After lunch we all went into the hall and sat down. Mrs Odell had an announcement (5O class tutor) she said "we all want you to have fun but we don't want you to be silly." Next we all played sock wars (a game where you took your shoes off and tried to take your opponents sock off before they do). After that we played The Chocolate Game (you roll a dice and if you get a six you go in the middle and put some silly fancy dress clothes on and then you try to cut a chunk off. But if another person gets a six you have to stop what you are doing and swap over.
