On Wednesday 9th January, Year 5 had a party!

The party was supposed to be on the 18th of December but then the heating at school broke down and we all had to go home. Because we missed our Christmas party we got to have a new year party instead.

We played games like sock wars. Sock wars is a game where you get into a circle and then 2 or 4 people get into the middle. If you go into the middle, you have to keep your bottom and your feet on the floor but try to grab the other person's sock. I won and I'm glad no one had stinky feet!

After that we played musical bumps. If you don't know how to play that, I'll explain. What you do is you spread out, play some music and dance around. When the music stops, you have to sit down as quickly as you can.

Then we played the chocolate game. Do you know how to play that? You have to sit in a circle and each person rolls the dice. If you get a 6 you have to run into the middle and put on some funny clothes and then you have to use a knife and fork to cut up a bar of chocolate, but if someone else gets a 6, you have to stop -mmmnnnn chocolate!

After that we made our mocktails. Don't worry, they didn't have alcohol in them, we made them with juices. During that the best ones got put into a competition - Harry Tye won.

Then we played Head it Catch it. Again you get into a circle and then when the person in the middle throws the ball, they say head it or catch it. You have to do the opposite.

After that we played pass the parcel. Surely you know how to play that! Finally we had our goody bags, in them was a water gun, a key ring and a kazoo.

Brundall School is the BEST!
