

Brundall Primary School

Behaviour and Anti-Bullying Policy Our Consistent Approach to Behaviour Management.

At Brundall Primary School we aim to create a safe and happy environment where exemplary behaviour enables all to feel secure and respected within an atmosphere of learning without limits. Everyone is expected to maintain the highest standards of personal conduct, to accept responsibility for their behaviour and encourage others to do the same. Building relationships with our children is at the heart of this policy and our staff understand that their behaviour affects the behaviour of the children. We all understand that we need to model the desirable behaviours and show our children that - despite finding some situations difficult - there is always an appropriate way forward.

Our behaviour policy guides staff to teach self-discipline not blind compliance. The emphasis is on respectful behaviour, a partnership approach to managing poor conduct and dynamic interventions that support staff and children. We recognise that each individual child is at a different stage of social learning. Only through a consistent approach to supporting their behaviour will be able to achieve an environment in which children can learn and develop as caring and responsible people. This policy outlines the underlying philosophy, purpose, nature, organisation and management of pupil behaviour.

The basis of this policy is that all children and staff have the following rights;

Every pupil has:

- The right to feel safe
- The right to be treated with respect
- The right to express feelings and opinions without fear of ridicule
- The right to receive a quality education.

Every member of staff has:

- The right to teach
- The right to be treated with respect
- The right to feel safe

Similarly, our families have:

- The right to know their children are safe
- To be sure that their children are treated fairly and with respect
- The knowledge and understanding of the school's approach to managing behaviour.

Through the policy we aim to:

- Ensure a consistent use of language and a calm approach for managing behaviour.
- Ensure that all children are treated as individuals, shown respect and that good relationships are promoted.
- Support children as they become responsible for their behaviour and recognise the consequences of it.
- Ensure that agreed boundaries of acceptable behaviour are clearly understood by all pupils, staff and families.
- Ensure that all adults take responsibility for behaviour management and follow up any issues personally. Senior leaders and pastoral staff are to stand alongside colleagues to support, guide, model and show a unified consistency to the children.
- Encourage a positive, calm and purposeful atmosphere where pupils can learn without limits.
- Ensure our pupils are polite, happy and considerate of others' feelings.

- Provide a framework which supports our children either to change behaviours to remain in class or to re-engage with learning at the earliest possible opportunity after a reset has been required.
- Engage with any child on the school site who is obviously finding self-regulation difficult, regardless of year group.

As a school community through the taught curriculum as well as during all other opportunities e.g. lunchtimes and extended provision such as Breakfast and After School clubs, we aim to:

- Teach specific social skills and specific strategies for children to solve conflicts peacefully
- Enable children to recognise, understand and respond to a range of feelings
- Develop vocabulary to enable children to express feelings verbally rather than physically
- Ensure children are aware of the consequences of their words and actions towards themselves and others.

Our behaviour policy is built on a consistent approach across all areas of the school. Our school rules are easy to understand, easy to follow and easy to remember:

Be safe, honest and kind.

Senior leaders will:

- Be a visible presence around the site and especially at changeover times (beginning and end of lunchtimes)
- Encourage use of positive communication
- Ensure staff training needs are identified and met
- Share good practice
- Use behaviour data to target and assess school-wide behaviour policy and practice
- Regularly implement and review provision for children who fall beyond the range of written policy

Language around Behaviour

We understand that a common consistent use of language around behaviour is essential in creating clear boundaries for learning how to behave. Phrases such as 'kicked off' or 'screaming fit' are unhelpful in these instances and adults should consider the language they use when recalling an event either in person or on CPOMS. Conversations should follow a script and adults should endeavour to lower themselves to the same height as the child or group of children.

Rewards - The Positive Consequences

We recognise and reward children who go 'above and beyond'. The use of praise in developing a positive atmosphere in the classroom cannot be underestimated. Where the teacher is specific about the reasons for which the praise has been earned, the behaviour is more likely to be repeated as a consequence.

It is the key to developing positive relationships, including with those children who are the hardest to reach.

Rewards at Brundall Primary include:

- The use of praise – verbal and non-verbal acknowledgement and encouragement. The use of positive comments to help instil a culture of learning.
- Display of work within the classroom, main corridor and on social media.
- Raffle tickets are awarded to children who demonstrate a great attitude and resilience to their learning and behaviour. This might include children who have exceptional manners or put others needs above their own. They are given to children for going 'above and beyond' and during celebration assembly one is chosen at random and awarded a book voucher.
- Positive communication with parents - this could be a text message, phone call or postcard.

When praise is not enough...

Good behaviour has to be taught, regularly reinforced and attention drawn to those who model it in order for the desired standard of conduct to be understood.

A positive and patient approach is necessary in order to develop a good working relationship with children that will lead to positive responses. There will still be occasions, however, when children do not demonstrate an acceptable standard of behaviour. All staff are to follow our school approach.

Steps towards re-engagement

The system is designed to support children to regulate their own behaviours, enabling them to stay in class with no detrimental effects on their own, or others, learning. If learning continues to be disrupted, then further steps may have to be taken to ensure the best outcomes for all children in the school. The Tiers we have adopted in school make this very clear for the whole community.

Step 1 - Gentle encouragement
Gentle encouragement - a 'nudge' in the right direction. Use positive praise. Use a quick private reminder or look. Make the child aware that you have noticed them. Be explicit in your expectations and instructions. Praise children who are following the expected behaviour. Remember to... I've seen you (lining up) Last week I saw you (note something positive)
Step 2 - Reminder of expectations - private where possible
A reminder of the expectations - 'Be kind, safe and honest' reminder to the children. The adult should endeavour to lower themselves to the child's height. The adult makes them aware of their behaviour. The child has the choice to do the right thing. I need you to... Thank you for listening (and withdraw, allowing the learner time to comply). I noticed you are.... (having trouble sitting where I asked etc.) In the classroom/playground we agree that... (no running/no swinging on...) You have chosen to... to see you doing that now (name) – thank you.
Step 3 - Clear verbal caution

A clear verbal warning is given to the child making them aware of their behaviour and clearly outlining the consequences if they continue. Give the child the opportunity to do the right thing. Children will be reminded of their previous good conduct to prove they can make right choices. Use scripts for this... I've noticed that ... remind learners of previous success e.g. (Child) this is your verbal warning if you carry on doing this your consequence will be ... You can make the choice to Do you remember last week...? I need you to... this is your last chance before I ask you to leave the classroom to reset. Thank you for listening to me. Are you keeping yourself safe & are you keeping others safe?

Step 4 - Reset Time

Reset Time: At this point the child will need to be given the opportunity to re-set outside of the classroom – with a timer. This could be a quiet space or even a walk to relieve tension. I've noticed ... I need you to take some time in ... Thank you for listening. You have chosen to ... so you will need to ... All re-sets need to be logged on CPOMS.

After a reset, a restorative conversation needs to be had with children. This should be at a natural break in the session or at playtime/lunchtime not at the point that the child is ready to re-engage with the lesson. Questions discussed include: What happened? Who has been affected by your actions? How did those people feel? What behaviours will each person show next time? Emotion cards will be used if appropriate to support the conversation. Do you think this is a fair consequence? Do you think the resolution is fair?

It is important that children feel listened to and are given the opportunity to talk about what has happened. Children who feel frustrated about how a situation has been dealt with may need a follow up conversation and an explanation of what has happened and why.

It may be appropriate for children who have 'fallen out' to spend some time together to ensure that relationships have been mended – this may include staying in during a break time but playing with lego for example to help rebuild and move on.

If children are sent for a reset 3 times in half a term they need to move to Tier two. This is the responsibility of class teacher.

Appropriate consequences during break and lunchtime:

During times of the day when the children are not in structured lessons, the same approach to behaviour is taken. Positive praise and the rewards outlined are all relevant. In cases where children engage in physical contact and this results in harm or distress to any person, serious consequences are given. Rough play is not permitted and the school does not tolerate physical aggression.

Consequences may be:

- Missing break and lunch time privileges for a set period of time.
- Parents invited in for a meeting in order to discuss consequences and expectations.
- Fixed-term exclusion.

Where attempts to manage normal break and lunchtimes have not been successful over a period of time the school will look at staggering breaks or limiting time spent outside by some individuals.

The Tiered System of Behaviour Support:

Behaviours in school are monitored by the Senior Leadership Team. There are occasions when some children need individually tailored support beyond that of the embedded classroom system in order to help them learn how to regulate their own behaviours. In these cases, the following tiered system is in place: The majority of our children at Brundall Primary School and Nursery are catered for within Tier 1.

Tier 1

Behaviour is managed in class following our stepped whole school approach. This includes appropriately differentiated work, check-ins, nudges, reminders and re-sets. This is set out and explained in the above section. Positive praise and restorative conversations are used to support behaviour in school. We have a clear stepped approach.

Tier 2

This Tier is intended for children who are not responding to embedded classroom management. Advice should be sought from SLT in the first instance to discuss behaviour support and strategies. At this point the teacher will ensure that incidents are being reported to parents. Teachers are to organise a parent meeting to discuss behaviour. The teacher is to complete an ABC - Antecedent, Behaviour, Consequence¹- chart if needed which will identify trigger points and patterns in behaviour. From this, behavioural targets² are set for three weeks and are shared with all. These targets are monitored weekly by the class teacher in communication with the family.

Tier 3

If the behaviour continues the teacher will meet with SLT to devise a behaviour plan. These plans will be shared and reviewed weekly by teachers and SLT. For some children these will remain in place to manage behaviour if successful. The class teacher will ensure that all adults are aware of the plan. The plans will be reviewed after three weeks and the next step will be decided. If successful, the plan will remain in place. If the behaviour continues and the plan is not successful further intervention including observation by SENCO or SLT to support.

Tier 4

This Tier is for children who have been through the process of Tier 2 and 3 and it has had no impact and there is no reduction in resets OR for children whose behaviour has necessitated a fixed term exclusion.

A formal meeting will be held with class teacher, SLT and Head. There could be possible external agency involvement. Previous plans will be reviewed and a new Intensive Support Plan formulated. This will be shared with parents and child outlining clear expectations and consequences.

Exclusions

Where exclusions from school are used, these are seen as a last resort or in cases of extreme violence, bullying and verbal assaults. Procedures follow DFE exclusions guidance and model policies from Norfolk County Council.

² See appendix two for an example of a behaviour target sheet

Exclusion can come into effect when there is;

- Persistent behaviour which prevents others working
- Serious theft
- Serious or persistent vandalism
- Persistent aggression
- Persistent anti-social behaviour
- Serious intended verbal or physical assault of an adult or fellow child

As each case is unique, the age and social development of any pupil will be taken into consideration should exclusion under these circumstances be required. Our statutory duties in relation to Special Educational Needs are also taken into account when administering the exclusion process.

Anti-bullying

Bullying is the deliberate, repetitive and sustained aggression by an individual or group with the intention of hurting another person(s). It occurs over a period of time and results in pain and distress to the victim(s).

It can be:

- Physical e.g. pushing, spitting, or any use of violence
- Verbal e.g. threats, rumours, teasing
- Emotional e.g. social exclusion, tormenting
- Sexual e.g. unwanted physical contact, gestures or harassment
- Racial e.g. taunts, attacks and remarks towards children from differing racial, religious or cultural backgrounds

Measures to Prevent Bullying

We implement strategies to educate children and avoid bullying. Our children are empowered through an understanding of what bullying is; their right to tell and to be listened to without being judged; and, with the support of adults, are made accountable for their actions and responsible for each other's safety.

The PSHE curriculum and circle time are used to give opportunities to discuss issues and emphasise everyone's right to be treated with respect and kindness. The school is involved in Anti-Bullying week each year and promotes the theme set out by the organisers of this. Children are encouraged to help each other and celebrate differences.

When suspected bullying occurs

We never ignore it - We always respond to suspected bullying and ensure children know that incidents are dealt with promptly and effectively. Staff are trained to be vigilant to possible indications of bullying and initiate further investigation where appropriate.

We listen carefully to all accounts and don't make assumptions - We listen to every side of the story independently and give all those involved, including witnesses, the opportunity to be heard.

We adopt a problem-solving approach – The staff team work to build trust with those children involved to promote reconciliation and behaviour change. The bullying behaviour and threats of bullying must stop immediately. The parents/carers of both parties are informed of any incident and are expected to support the school in any actions taken. They are invited to meet to discuss the problem with the pupil and teacher/SLT as appropriate.

We will follow up, both in the short and long term - Regular checks take place to ensure that incidents have stopped. SLT ensures all appropriate members of staff are aware of the situation and work with both parties to resolve tensions, where necessary ensuring the consistent application of sanctions. All incidents are recorded on CPOMS and reported to governors and regularly reviewed by SLT.

Managing Pupil Transition

Managing pupil transition between schools is important in minimising disruption to learning and pupil support during these periods requires special attention. Regular meetings occur between Brundall Primary School and local pre-schools. Brundall Primary School liaises closely with our feeder High Schools in order to ensure effective transition. Extra opportunities for transition are built in for vulnerable children in order to make the move as easy as possible. These opportunities will vary for those children not transferring to the usual feeder schools

Reasonable Force

The right of teachers to use reasonable force is laid down in the Education and Inspections Act 2006 and the SLT must ensure that staff are aware of and properly understand what this right entails.

All staff have been authorised by the SLT to use such force as is reasonable in all circumstances to prevent a pupil from doing, or continuing to do, any of the following;

- Committing a criminal offence
- Injuring themselves or others
- Causing damage to property
- Engaging in any behaviour prejudicial to maintaining good order and discipline at the school or among any of its children, whether the behaviour occurs in a classroom during a teaching session or elsewhere.

As there is no legal definition of reasonable force, the following must be considered when making any judgement:

It will always depend on the circumstances of the case.

- Staff have a duty of care to children, but are not required to put their own safety at risk.
- The school starts from a 'no contact' position.
- Incidents where force is used should be recorded and parents informed. Staff must retain a written record of any event that is not routine (retained for an appropriate time scale, in case of future enquiry).
- That it is unlawful to use force as a means of punishment.
- The degree of force must be in proportion to the incident. It must be the minimum force needed to achieve the desired result.
- The age and understanding of the child should be taken into account.

All staff have the school's complete support for carrying out the procedures listed in this Policy and in dealing with any non-routine circumstances with children or parents. Where possible, staff are encouraged to have a witness present when dealing with such circumstances. Staff receive Step On training on dealing with and managing difficult behaviour (renewed every two years). Some staff also receive Step-Up training on physical restraint (renewed annually). In some cases, risk reduction and behaviour plans are created around a child with a specific behavioural need. This is done in agreement with parents and is shared with all staff.

The role of the family

Active family involvement is welcomed, appreciated and deliberately encouraged. It is vital that children's families are closely involved in supporting the implementation of our strategies.

It is the responsibility of both the school and parents to foster good values and to enable children to develop acceptable views of right and wrong. For parents this means:

- Encouraging their child to develop a positive attitude towards a diverse, multi-cultural community by setting a good example at home.
- Communicating with their child's teacher and other staff, aiming to be positive and productive, working towards moving their child on in their learning.
- Ensuring that all dealings with school staff are conducted calmly and in an acceptable manner.
- Ensuring that children attend school regularly, arriving on time, alert and ready for the tasks ahead and are collected promptly at the end of the day.

Should any parent or other visitor to the school not follow this Code and display unacceptable behaviour, the following consequences will apply to that person:

- All staff have the right to refuse to speak to them
- They will be asked to leave the premises immediately
- If they refuse, the police will be called to remove them
- A written warning will be sent
- Repeated misconduct will result in their permission to enter school property being revoked and a letter of confirmation will be issued (see Appendix 1). This means they will not be permitted to attend teacher meetings, activities, functions or events
